BY THIS DAY'S MAIL.

TRINIDAD, September 20.

We are at length enabled to lay before our readers some news of Miranda that can be depended on. His majesty's ship the Osprey having arrived on Monday last from a cruise to leeward, during which she intercepted the Spanish mail boat on her passage from La Guira to Cumana and Margarita, with the mail up to the 16th August on board, from which we receive the following intelligence, extracted from one of the letters:

"Miranda has made himself master of Coro, the garrison of which, consisting of 200 fuzileers, retreated without opposing him. If the English support him he will give us more trouble than is generally supposed. On receiving this intelligence the captain general and intendant marched with all the armed force, but before they can reach him he will be fortified so as to secure his retreat, for no doubt he will have chosen the best and most advantageous position of the many the coast offers for defence, and therefore the consequences may be very serious. It is not that there are any want of numbers well affected to oppose him, but the country is entirely disarmed, and of what use is inclination without arms, to which we may add, the total want of money, for we have not a real in the treasury."

NASSAU (N. P.) Sept. 19.

By an arrival yesterday from Harbor Island, we learn, they experienced the most severe and disastrous hurricane that ever was known in the memory of the oldest inhabitant there on the 14th instant. It commenced at 8 o'clock in the morning, and continued with increased violence, till about half past four o'clock in the afternoon. The brig Two Brothers and smack Betsey, belonging to captain Fisher, sunk in the harbor; but the distress of the inhabitants is deplorable in the extreme.—There are only now standing on the island about 46 houses, and these very much shattered, and no less than 124 totally demolished, exclusive of the barracks and church, which are razed to the foundation, and what adds to these distressing circumstances is, that the whole crop, on which these people depended, is totally destroyed.

At Spanish Wells, we understand, there are only 4 houses standing; and at the Boag, on Eleuthera, it is reported a number of people are drowned.

September 26.

Captain Hubbel of New York, fell in with on the 15th instant, in latitude 37, 30, N. and longitude 71 W. the ship Union captain Bruce of Greenock, dismasted and endeavoring to make some port in America. Captain Bruce was from Jamaica, and one of a fleet of 150 sail, from which he separated in a violent gale on the 21st and 22d August, in lat. 30, N. long. 78, W. Captain B. conjectured the remainder of the fleet would suffer equally with himself.

Extract of a letter from Exuma, dated the 19th instant.

We have had two very severe hurricanes here, one on the 30th Aug. which continued nearly five hours, and blew down nearly all the cotton machines on both Exumas; the other on the 13th instant, from the N. and N. W. which lasted 14 hours, and the damage occasioned by it on this island is very extensive. The church is blown down, and nearly all the houses in the harbor are in a similar state, or otherwise considerably injured,* and at Little Exuma, I understand, not a house is left standing, with the exception of a few negro huts; on the Hermitage estate the large stone dwelling house is blown down, and loss of cotton and corn is immense. At the great salt pond the sea broke over the bank, and swept away several heaps of salt besides injuring several others; indeed the loss of salt has been great, for in addition to what salt was lost by the above accident, the rain, during the gale, fell in torrents, and melted large holes in the heaps, in consequence of the thatch having blown off.

* The buildings at the harbor, which have have not suffered very materially, are, a corn house belonging to G. Darnes, Esq. a corn house belonging to Isaac R. Tucker, Esq. a large house at the town head, and the house in which the pilot resides.

NEW-YORK, October 17.

An ingenuous project for fortifying the harbor of New York at the Narrows, between Long Island and Staten Island, by Mr. Archibald Robertson of New York, has been forwarded to general Dearborn, the secretary of war. The mode proposed is by a chain and boom, anchored at a salient angle between Signal Hill and the shoal opposite Denise's: the chain to be defended by batteries and gun boats. It is reported that the proposal of Mr. Robertson has been very favorably spoken of by col. Williams.

Captain Murdock, from Jamaica, informs us that on the 4th instant, to leeward of the Moro, he was boarded by the British frigate Anson, captain Ledyard, who mentioned to him that on the 15th of September he had engaged the Foudroyant, rear admiral Willaumez, for 35 minutes, and had two men killed, thirteen wounded, and suffered severely in masts, spars, sails and rigging. The French ship struck three times on the rocks close in with the Moro. When the Anson bore away she was fired at from the forts.

The storm of September which has done so much injury throughout the whole of our sea cost, has been very sensibly felt in every part of the West Indies, and we are continually receiving new and distressing accounts of its ravages. At Crooked Island on the 13th was experienced one of the most severe hurricanes ever known. Scarcely a house was left standing. All the plantations were considerably injured, and a great number of slaves lost their lives. The brig Speedwell of Liverpool, and an American brig from North Carolina, names unknown were totally lost. The crew of the latter consisted of 12 persons, every one of whom perished.

The Nassau paper of the 19th says: On Sunday last we were again visited by a very severe gale, more violent than the one we experienced on the 31st of last month. It commenced from the Northward early in the morning, and continued with unabated violence until night, by which time it had shifted around to the Southward—The circumstance of its blowing from the Northward, fortunately occasioned the shipping in the harbor to be in a great measure protected against its fury, by Hog-Island, yet the shipping did not altogether escape without injury, and we record the damage sustained by them as far as we have been able to learn. The slaughter house was shattered to pieces by the bowsprit of the schooner Ann, belonging to Mr. Richards, which vessel had there been cast on shore; the wharves and abutments along the bay sustained considerable injury, and a number of fences and trees in the town and its vicinity were blown down; we are happy however to have it in our power to state, that we have not heard of any lives being lost."

NORFOLK, October 12.

Arrived brig Union, Mullen, 66 days from Guernsey. August 18, in lat. 44, long. 15, was boarded by the Castor fripate, having twelve merchantmen under convoy from Gibraltar. Spoke September 13, in lat. 41, long. 44, an American ship 22 days from Liverpool bound to New York. October 3, lat. 38, long. 66, ship Bedford of Portsmouth, 5 days from Boston, bound to Guadaloupe.

Brig Harriet, Willis, 17 days from Jamaica, and 7 from Crooked Island. The schooner Samuel, Read, sailed for Edenton from Crooked Island the same day.

Brig Mount Vernon, Owens, 63 days from Rotterdam. August 20, in lat. 39, long. 59, in a gale carried away fore and main topmasts, and fore topsail yard. Friday last, off Cape Henry, was boarded by his Britannic majesty's ship Bellona, of 74 guns, and treated very politely.

Ship Amiable Antoniette, Williams, 61 days from Nantes. Left there August 12 ships William Penn, Watson, to sail for Norfolk in 8 days; Baltic, Misseron, of Charleston, discharging; Mississippi, Skidmore, to sail in 2 days for Rochefort; Penelope, Jappe, uncertain; Independence, Ingram, uncertain; brig Ellen, 35 days from Boston, performing quarantine. September 2, in lat. 36 53, long. 27 53, was boarded by his majesty's frigate Amelia, Lord Stuart, cruising for the Lima ships, treated very politely. 19th, lat. 37 6, long. 53 22, boarded by the French ship Cassard of 74 guns, one of Jerome Bonaparte's squadron: a number of the crew sick with the scurvey, and 20 had died: detained 2 hours and treated politely. October 1, lat. 38 8, long. 60 15, boarded by his majesty's frigate Cleopatra, captain Love, from Halifax bound to Antigua, two ships and two schooners in company—politely treated. 9th, lat. 36 42, long. 69 37, spoke brig Susan, Forsythe, three days from New London bound to Barbadoes. Same day ship Merrimack, Abron, from Vera Cruz bound to Tonningen, 32 days out.

October 14.

It was a current report here yesterday that Monsieur Turreau had made a formal demand on our government of eighty thousand pounds sterling for the French ship L'Impetueux lately burnt by the British within the jurisdiction of the U. States. For the truth of this we cannot vouch, but this much is certain, that government have directed commodore Barron, and his brother captain J. Barron to survey the situation of the ship when destroyed, and to report accordingly; and that they went from this place yesterday for that purpose.

Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

MONDAY, October 20.

Captain Doane, who arrived at Boston on Monday last, left Lisbon on the 9th of September, and informs, that earl St. Vincents had arrived there with six sail of the line and two frigates. It was supposed he came for the purpose of protecting the persons and property of the British subjects in case Portugal was invaded by a French and Spanish army, which was daily expected. Business was dull and freights low. It was rumored that the negociations for peace were broken off.

Captain Tirrell, who left Cadiz for Boston on the 1st ult. states, that there were 12 French and Spanish ships of the line ready for sea; and 8 English ships of the line, under admiral Collingwood, off the harbor.

The Jamaica Courant of September 16, says, "A French 80 gun ship and a frigate are stated to have arrived at Martinique, and were laying under the protection of the batteries at Fort Royal."

The Swedish schooner Fanny captain Hand, from St. Bartholomews, which arrived at Charleston on the 4th inst. touched at Cape Francois. To the politeness of the owner we are indebted for the following information:

The emperor of Hayti exercises the most despotic government, like his great Prototype in France, over his unfortunate subjects. He had lately been in Aux Cayes and dissolved the administration without ceremony. He has declared that he wishes to see no foreigners in his ports—that his subjects must learn to do without the luxuries which they formerly received from America, and live solely upon the produce of the island. He anticipates the time and is preparing for the event, when France will be at liberty to attack him; when all his ports shall be blockaded, or his sea ports destroyed, and he obliged to seek for shelter in the fastnesses among the mountains. Here they will make their great, their last stand; already accustomed to depend for their support and comfort, solely on the produce of their own soil, it will be a difficult matter to dislodge them or to bring them to terms of starvation. The emperor pays great attention to the plantations; all the idlers in the cities are compelled to go out and work for their living; an example worthy of being followed by more refined governments. The black inhabitants are much dissatisfied with their emperor and his government, and oftentimes complain of his tyranny, altho' death is the consequence. [Courier.]

Extract of a letter from Messrs. Collings, Bowden & Marney, to a merchant in Boston, dated Rotterdam, August 19.

"We embrace the first opportunity to inform you, that recent changes in political affairs have had a sensible effect on our markets. It is now, we conceive beyond doubt, that lord Lauderdale returns to England, without being able to accomplish the object of his mission. So much is this believed, that coffees, which were down to 12 a 13 stivers, would now find 17 a 20. Sugars are likewise advanced. The brown Havanas to 12 a 13, whites to 13½ a 16, muscovadoes 10 a 11 groats, cottons, Georgia, are 30 a 34 groats, logwood 8 to 9.

"We cannot well give you more general quotations at this moment, as the news of the late misunderstanding has not spread enough to render the markets sufficiently regular.

"Afternoon. We have just time to inform you, that 6 or 800 bags good St. Domingo or Cheribon coffee, were sold just now at 18 stivers, old allowances, which is equal to 17¼ now weight."

MONUMENT OF HAMILTON.—The corporation of Trinity church in N. York has erected over the grave of Hamilton, in Trinity church yard, a beautiful Monument of white marble, composed of a pyramid resting on an elevated base or pedestal, surrcunded with four elegant urns, and rising to the height of about 12 feet. The following is the inscription:

"To the memory of
ALEXANDER HAMILTON,
The corporation of Trinity church has erected
THIS MONUMENT
In testimony of their respect for
The Patriot of incorruptible integrity,
The Statesman of consummate wisdom,
Whose virtues and talents will be admired by
GRATEFUL POSTERITY
Long after this marble shall have mouldered into dust.
HE DIED JULY 12, 1804, AGED 47."

SUMMARY OF POLITICS.

NEGOCIATIONS FOR PEACE. In the preceding number, page 200, some observations were made upon the tone, which certain of the public prints are now taking relative to the TERMS, which the nation ought to expect, in case peace should be the result of the present negociation. It will be proper by and by, to add to those observations, and further to expose the ignorance, or the wickedness, which would persuade the people, that it is likely that good terms of peace, under the present circumstances, may be obtained; but, previously, it is necessary to notice, what, as it is said, are the nature of the terms obtained by the emperor of Russia; by that "young and noble minded and high spirited monarch," who, as the Morning Post told us, did, no longer ago than in the last gunpowder treason day, swear, positively swear, and in a church too, everlasting fidelity to the cause of the third coalition, formed for the express purpose of circumscribing the power of France. This "noble minded and high spirited monarch," for seeming to laugh at whose reported vow a writer in the Morning Herald was threatened with an information in the court of king's bench; this "noble minded and high spirited monarch," who, as we were told by the wiseacres of the Pitt ministry, rode through the most tremendous fire, during the battle of Austerlitz, calling out to his army "Victory or death!" and who was answered by his troops, that they would die a thousand deaths rather than see the arms of their dearly beloved sovereign dishonored; this "noble minded and high spirited monarch," who, as we are told in the Pitt bulletins, recovered, at the battle of Austerlitz, all the cannon he had lost, and drove back the French army beyond Austerlitz, and, afterwards, across the Swartz;" this noble minded, this high spirited, this heroic, this wonder working emperor, has made his peace with France; has sent his negociator to Paris; has, we may venture to conclude, laid aside the style adopted by M. Novosiltzoff; and in short has done every thing, which the wise men, who supported the Pitt coalition, expected him not to do.—When this is the case, must not these men have assurance, equal at least to their wisdom, to enable them to hold forth to their readers, that this is the time, that this, of all others, is the time to demand, and to expect to obtain, high terms of peace, at the hands of France? But, with respect to the emperor of Russia and his peace, it is said, that, not only has he not obtained for us any thing advantageous, but that he has given our interests entirely up, and has even agreed to aid France in compelling us to make a formal surrender of our maritime rights. Such an agreement was, we know, entered into, in a secret convention between Russia and France, in 1801 (see Political Register, vol. VI. page 932) and, it was with the knowledge of this, that Pitt and his place-loving crew entered into the third coalition. I endeavored, at the time, in various ways, to impress the fact upon the minds of my readers. In volume VI. of the Register, several articles will be found, the object of which was, to convince the public, that nothing good was to be expected from a war in alliance with Russia against France, unless it proceeded upon principles very different from those which were the basis of the third coalition. If it should have been agreed upon, between Russia and France, to compel us to give up our rights with regard to neutral ships; or, if Russia should have merely stipulated to use her good offices in order to prevail upon us to make such surrender, it will form a most delightful piece of puzzle-wit for that acute & profound statesman mylord Grenville! It will certainly draw his attention aside, for a while, from his deep researches into the hidden causes of national wealth and prosperity! He must leave the measures relative to cash payments at the Bank to be perfected by that no less acute and profound personage sir John New-part. Gods! What a confusion of noddle would be produced by an agreement between Russia and France, such as we have been speaking of! For my part, I was always afraid of Russia. From the very beginning of her coalescing, I expressed my fears, that France would easily draw her off from us, and, especially after having given her a little beating. The Pitt crew of placemen and place hunters would fain have us believe, that if the emperor of Russia has acted as it is said he has, with respect to peace with France, the FAULT is in the present ministers, who had given him reason to doubt of their intentions with regard to a vigorous prosecution of the war. But, was HE engaged in a vigorous prosecution of the war? Did they find him so engaged? What was he DOING? Just nothing at all; and, indeed nothing could he do FOR us; but there was no good reason for his doing any thing AGAINST us merely, as it is pretended, on account of our having begun to negociate for peace first, supposing that be the fact.

Runaway Negro.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, early in July, a negro man named GRESHAW. He is about 36 years of age, 5 feet 11 inches or 6 feet high, of a tawny complexion, has a scar on one of his jaws or side of his face forming a half circle; I think it is on the right, but am not positive. He is a slim made fellow, with a bushy head, and when spoken to has a scary and down look. When he went away he had a green round coat, buff colored breeches, with homespun cloathing, and has never been accustomed to any work but in the crop or field. I have understood he has crossed the Potomac about Britain's Bay, over into Maryland. I expect he has procured a pass and will endeavor to appear as a freeman.

All masters of vessels and others are forewarned from harboring or carrying him away under the penalty of the law.

I will give Twenty Dollars reward if taken in Maryland, or Fifteen if taken in the Northern Neck, so that I get him again,

George Christopher.
